Chrome with Flash Player

You don't have to install Flash Player if you use Chrome. Flash Player is integrated into Chrome and enabled by default. Chrome automatically updates when new versions of Flash Player are available.

To ensure that you have installed the latest version of Chrome and have the latest version of Flash Player, select Chrome > About Google Chrome.

- If you see the message “Google Chrome is up to date,” you have the latest version of Chrome.
- If Chrome is not up-to-date, click Update Now.
- If you can't download Chrome, try the steps below under Troubleshoot Flash Player download issues.

Note: The integrated Google Chrome Flash plug-in cannot be uninstalled using the Flash Player uninstaller. You can only enable or disable the integrated plug-in as described in Using Flash Player with Google Chrome.

Verify that installation is complete

1. Open your browser and check the status of Flash Player.
